Attractive Minstrel Show.

On Friday evening in the service of the King Circle of King's Daughters will be given a minstrel show and an auditorium for the benefit of the Sheltering Arms Free Hospital. Quite a good deal of interest has been manifested in the personnel of the cast, which includes William Burke, of the Mass-Ha-Bacon Minstrels of South Richmond, and a large share of local talent. Others in the cast are Messrs. Ernest Williams, Lieutenant Robert Short, Elder Reynolds, James Fowldes, Arthur Mandeville, Curtis, Joseph Mann, John Scherzer, Harold Wright, Kenneth Gordon, Harry Austin, Stutz, Davis, Van Denburgh, Adams, Mill, Morristte, Oglewell, Hall, T. Big Garden Party.

Hahlin on Cary Street Road. The entertainment is given under the direction of the Guild of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church at Westhampton, which includes in its membership some of the most prominent society women of Richmond, and the pretty grounds and gardens of "Windsorwood" will be gay with an interesting gathering from all over the country to-morrow.

All sorts of pretty flower booths, refreshment stands and gay little summer houses will be arranged for the entertainment of the guests, and automobiles will meet the Westhampton cars at Step 22 for the accommodation of those going out that way.

Crump and Robert Scott. The club will be entertained next week by Mrs. Crump at her apartment in the Chesterfield.

Pupil's Recital.

Miss Belle Johnson's piano pupils gave their annual recital before a large and interested audience on Friday evening last.

One of the most attractive features of the program was the trio by Misses Pendleton Anderson, Eleanor Knox and Etta Johnson, who are all under ten years of age, and who played with a precision of attack and a strength of tone that is rare in much older pupils. Little Miss Anderson also deserves special mention for her work, several of the numbers, notably, a solo, "The Hunter Horn," to which she was compelled to give an encore.

After the musical program refreshments were served.

The program was as follows:

Mrs. Wilson Hostess.

Mrs. Walter Wilson was hostess at a charming function on Thursday evening at her country home in Bowly's Creek, the affair being given in honor of her sisters, Mrs. Malcolm J. Rawlings, of Lynchburg, and Miss Ruby Channing, of this city. About sixty guests were entertained and the parlors and halls were decorated everywhere in spring flowers and trailing vines, a color scheme of pink and white being carried out very effectively. Auction bridge was played and the prize was awarded to W. E. Bennett, following the game refreshments were served at the card tables.

Interesting Musical.
